Amy joined Mackenzie Hughes in 2021 as a paralegal with experience in various areas of the law, with a primary focus on litigation.

Amy's analytical skills and appreciation for details has led her into a career in the legal field as a litigation paralegal. It is her attention to details and the capability to analyze facts, coupled with her ability to multitask different aspects of the law practice that has earned Amy success that she has enjoyed as a paralegal.

In her spare time, Amy enjoys volunteering, and spending time with her family, dog and friends.
